Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Instructions to Surgeons Superintendents of Government Emigrant Ships But it is equally evident that any want of temper or justice or attention on his part would alienate the Emigrants from him, and make the performance of his duties proportionably more difficult. Nor is it only towards the Emigrants that the Surgeon Superintendent should well consider the relation in which he stands. As their protector it will be his duty to watch over the conduct of the Master and Officers of the Ship and Crew in all that relates to the Emigrants, - to see that the proper allowance of food and water is duly issued to them, - to protect them from ill-usage or interference, and especially to prevent, as further explained hereafter, communication with the single females, whether on deck or in their own apartment below. His relations with the Officers of the ship will require the exercise of as much discretion and firmness as his relations with the Emigrants; and on his exercise of those qualities will depend not less his own comfort...
